

I have revised the manuscript along the point-by-point proposals in my initial response to reviewer comments. Most significantly, an introductory paragraph has been added which clarifies the context and motivation of the manuscript, related to reference wind turbine controllers. The principal conclusion is now limited to a reference PI controller, as opposed to controllers of a more general class. I hope that this satisfies the principal objections of the reviewers related to the scope of the findings.