

Thanks for the comments. Paragraph 2 of the paper now does the signposting in addition to the previous signposting.

The logic is now.

Airfoil stall is complicated to model, making wind turbine development hard.

Machine learning can help, we will demonstrate how.