

The revised article wes-2024-187-ATC2 includes corrections by both reviewers. The new discussion section is an improvement, which contemplates various model extensions and clarifies the scope of the model.

The paper is nearly ready for publication. The only remaining issue is to update the link in the paragraph called 'code and data availability'.

Thanks for the well-structured author-response letter.