We appreciate your feedback and comments on our manuscript. Following is our responses.

The provided comments are in the standard font colour black and our responses to the comments are in blue. The associated changes can be seen in the revised manuscript which is submitted with this document.

Provided minor comments

1. In my opinion, the authors have addressed the reviewer's comments and I have emailed the authors to point out one final comment, which was a typographical error on line 386 of the revised manuscript.
Thank you for your agreement with our changes and for identifying the typographical error. Yes, it should be 'wing' and not 'wind'. We have now corrected this.
