

Referee report on “Dynamic response and loads analysis of a large offshore wind turbine under low-frequency wind fluctuations” by Syed, Hannesdóttir and Mann

Thanks to the authors for revising the manuscript according to the referee’s suggestions. All comments have been adequately taken into account, and the manuscript has improved. It considerably advances our understanding of the relationship between anisotropic inflow wind-field structures and wind turbine loads, and I recommend publication in its current form.